SCOPE AND CONTENT

Record Group #23, Treasurer's Records, 1796-1891, consists of vouchers, warrants, court charges, State bond transactions, early banking records, reports to the Legislature, tax records, some information on the Common School Fund, and miscellaneous correspondences, including information on specie payments.

Individual warrants to members of the General Assembly and their staff, 1796 to 1809, reflect the names of many of the State's founders. Early justices, Governors, and militia inspectors and trainers endorsed their warrants, and payment for making the Great Seat of the State of Tennessee (1802) was also located. Statements from the Bank of Tennessee and its branches, 1821 to 1825, and the Fayetteville, Tennessee Bank, 1821, have been preserved. Bank reports to the Legislature, 1823 to 1845, represent a few of the many financial institutions of the period.

Tax releases and returns illustrate one of the functions of the early Treasurer's office, and correspondence, while very incomplete, give further evidence of its actions.

Many of the Treasurer's records were lost prior to 1900, and the remainder give only glimpses into the workings of the office. There are nine boxes and ten volumes of material. A name and county index follows the main body of the register. Subjects are shown in the register by folder labels.
